

Minutes of the 14th International CertiLingua Annual Conference

Online Meeting

21 September 2020

WELCOMING WORDS

Silke Hinz, the chair of the International Steering Group, welcomes the participants of this year's annual conference. She thanks the CertiLingua Steering Group, in particular Gisella Langé, for the great support in preparing and organizing the online conference and in finding Professor Enrica Piccardo as a keynote speaker.

Expressing her regret about the Annual Conference not being able to meet in person, she reminds the participants of the underlying values and ideas of CertiLingua that are still valid even if personal meetings cannot take place for the time being.

Enabling students to meet students from other countries is a central idea of CertiLingua and this is why ways need to be found of how best to support schools in continuing their international face-to-face projects during the Covid-19 pandemic.

This is currently regarded as a key challenge.

In addition, the piloting of project documentations with audio-visual elements needs to be continued.

Another challenge that needs to be addressed are the label's feedback procedures since they have not always been working smoothly in recent years.

However, the available data corroborates a very positive trend, since the number of schools increased to 349 throughout Europe and 860 certificates could be awarded in 2019. This means that in total 7,665 certificates have been awarded since the label's foundation.

REPORTS FROM THE MEMBER STATES

A padlet was created to collect the main successes and main challenges the Member States are facing at the moment (see appendix).

While all Member States are suffering from the effects of the Covid-19 pandemic and while all Member States see it as an ongoing challenge to make CertiLingua better known among schools, universities and companies, there seem to be stable numbers of schools that are participating and labels that are awarded. It remains to be seen, though, what impact Covid-19 will have on next year's data.

KEYNOTE

In her presentation, Professor Enrica Piccardo from the University of Toronto outlines central features of the CEFR Companion Volume with New Descriptors (CEFRCV).

In this document, mediation and mediation strategies as well as online interaction are taken into additional consideration.

Making these competences visible and understandable, the CEFRCV can function as a reference tool that intends to provide a framework from which to pick what educators need for the development and assessment of corresponding tasks (see attached pdf of Prof. Piccardo's presentation).

After Prof. Piccardo has answered questions following her very inspiring presentation, a corresponding idea from Perm is presented: Students there have to give a presentation on their projects in their two CertiLingua languages. First, they are asked to give a summary in the language not used for the project documentation, then they present the project in the language used for its written documentation and, finally, they answer questions on the project in both languages.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE – RESOLUTIONS

CertiLingua projects & project documentations in times of COVID-19

The document “CertiLingua projects & project documentations in times of COVID-19” applies the existing standards for the projects and their documentation to the current situation that makes online projects an interim necessity (see appendix). It is accepted unanimously.

The Annual Conference adopts the principles described in the document “CertiLingua projects & project documentations in times of COVID-19”.

Project Documentations with audio-visual elements

Due to the still rather small sample size, it is inevitable to extend the pilot phase for Project Documentations with audio-visual elements until 2022.

It is briefly discussed if a project documentation with audio- but without video-elements can be accepted, too.

It is suggested to include this question into the pilot phase and accept such documentations should they occur. The wording of the proposal is changed and the following formulation is accepted unanimously:

The Annual Conference agrees to extend the pilot phase for Project Documentations with audio-visual elements until 2022.

End of the Annual Conference 2020 and Annual Conference 2021

Silke Hinz closes this year's Annual Conference by acknowledging the continued efforts of all participants and thanks Gisella Langé once more for her great support in the organizing this year's online event.

It is hoped that a regular conference can convene in Strasbourg in September 2021.

CertiLingua projects & project documentations in times of COVID-19

The CertiLingua Label of Excellence fosters international cooperation of young adult learners throughout Europe and promotes the acquisition of intercultural competences. The CertiLingua face-to-face projects and the CertiLingua Project Documentations are key features of the label in this domain. Standards and documents have been developed to safeguard the quality of the projects and their documentation.

In order to further enable students to grow and flourish in this field and to maintain the possibility of acquiring the label during the COVID-19 pandemic, other forms of international project work need to be found and the face-to-face encounter can be a digital one.

The aforementioned standards remain principally valid.

This document intends to provide additional orientation by outlining the applicability of the existing regulations to potential online formats and by adding arrangements where needed.

Online projects are regarded as a necessary and useful interim solution for the period of the pandemic.

It is not intended to install them as an adequate substitute for a personal encounter in the long run.

Preparation

Standard

The face-to-face project takes place in the last three years of school / upper secondary. It is explicitly linked to the school's curriculum. An idea/question is developed beforehand that focusses on intercultural aspects. This international/intercultural focus is explained and the students outline how they hope to gain new insights from their project in this domain.

The same standards apply to online projects.

Realization

Standard

The projects are generally to take place abroad. If taking place at home, the intercultural focus needs to be explained sufficiently. They usually comprise several days.

The intercultural focus is linked to the realization of the project and is elaborated in the course of the project.

Online projects can take place at home.

The requirement to elaborate the intercultural focus of the project makes it a logical requirement that CertiLingua online projects still need to comprise a sufficient amount of face-to-face time in the form of online encounters. A combination of sharing content online (for example videos that are produced for the partners) and real-time online encounters is acceptable. But simply exchanging content without seeing and talking to each other does not fulfil the criteria. Neither does a singular online encounter or a series of short and shallow ones.

Reflection

Standard

The student explains to what extent the project has developed his/her European and international competences. The dimensions of the CertiLingua Standards of Excellence in Intercultural Competences, significantly covered in the project, are addressed. The student evaluates the realization of the project and critically reflects on his/her intercultural experiences. The student reflects on the extent to which the face-to-face encounter has created new insights.

The same standards apply to the documentation of online projects.

Documentation

Standard

- a) Written documentation according to

*Checklist for Assessing the CertiLingua Project
Documentation*

The same standards apply to the documentation of online projects.

- b) Video documentation (pilot phase) according to

*Guidelines for Students'
CertiLingua Project
Documentations with Audio-Visual and Written Parts*

Recordings of the online face-to-face project and shared content can be used for the production of a documentation with audio-visual and written parts.

For this new format, still in the pilot phase, guidelines as well as a corresponding checklist have been developed (see appendix).

COVID-19 Projects

The COVID-19 pandemic imposes unprecedented burdens on schools, teachers and in particular on students whose school and future careers are taking unforeseen turns.

In these times of uncertainty, it might be helpful to share one's experiences with peers from other countries that are similarly affected by this crisis.

In this respect, it should also be considered whether the crisis itself could be the focus of a project in order to provide students with an opportunity to share their worries and look ahead together.

Appendix

Guidelines for students' CertiLingua Project Documentations with Audio-visual and Written Parts

Pilot phase

Purpose:

CertiLingua students have the chance to present the intercultural competences they have developed during the face-to-face-project, using both writing and speaking skills, in a motivating, innovative way with digital support.

The candidates demonstrate their B2 level language skills (or higher) and their development in intercultural learning. All CertiLingua standards are valid for all parts of the documentation and serve as orientation.

An Adapted Checklist for Students' Project Documentations (with audio-visual parts) serves as the reference document for the evaluation of the new format.

Further agreements/understandings:

- The student can replace one or two parts of the project documentation (My Motivation, The Project Idea, The Realization and The Reflection) using audio-visual supports.
- Within the audio-visual parts the student's speaking time should be about 5 minutes.
- The student provides enough language material so that the B2 language level will be obvious.
- The audio-visual and the written parts are coherent with regard to language, topic and use of media and are connected in a meaningful way.
- A minimum technical quality is required, but the technical and aesthetic execution will not be evaluated. It will be looked at as part of the level to which the audio-visual parts successfully transport the intercultural learning.

- The students may also add audio-visual elements to the written project documentation.

Please note: In the pilot phase students can still obtain the CertiLingua label, even if the audio-visual parts in the project documentation are not well done!!

Key considerations

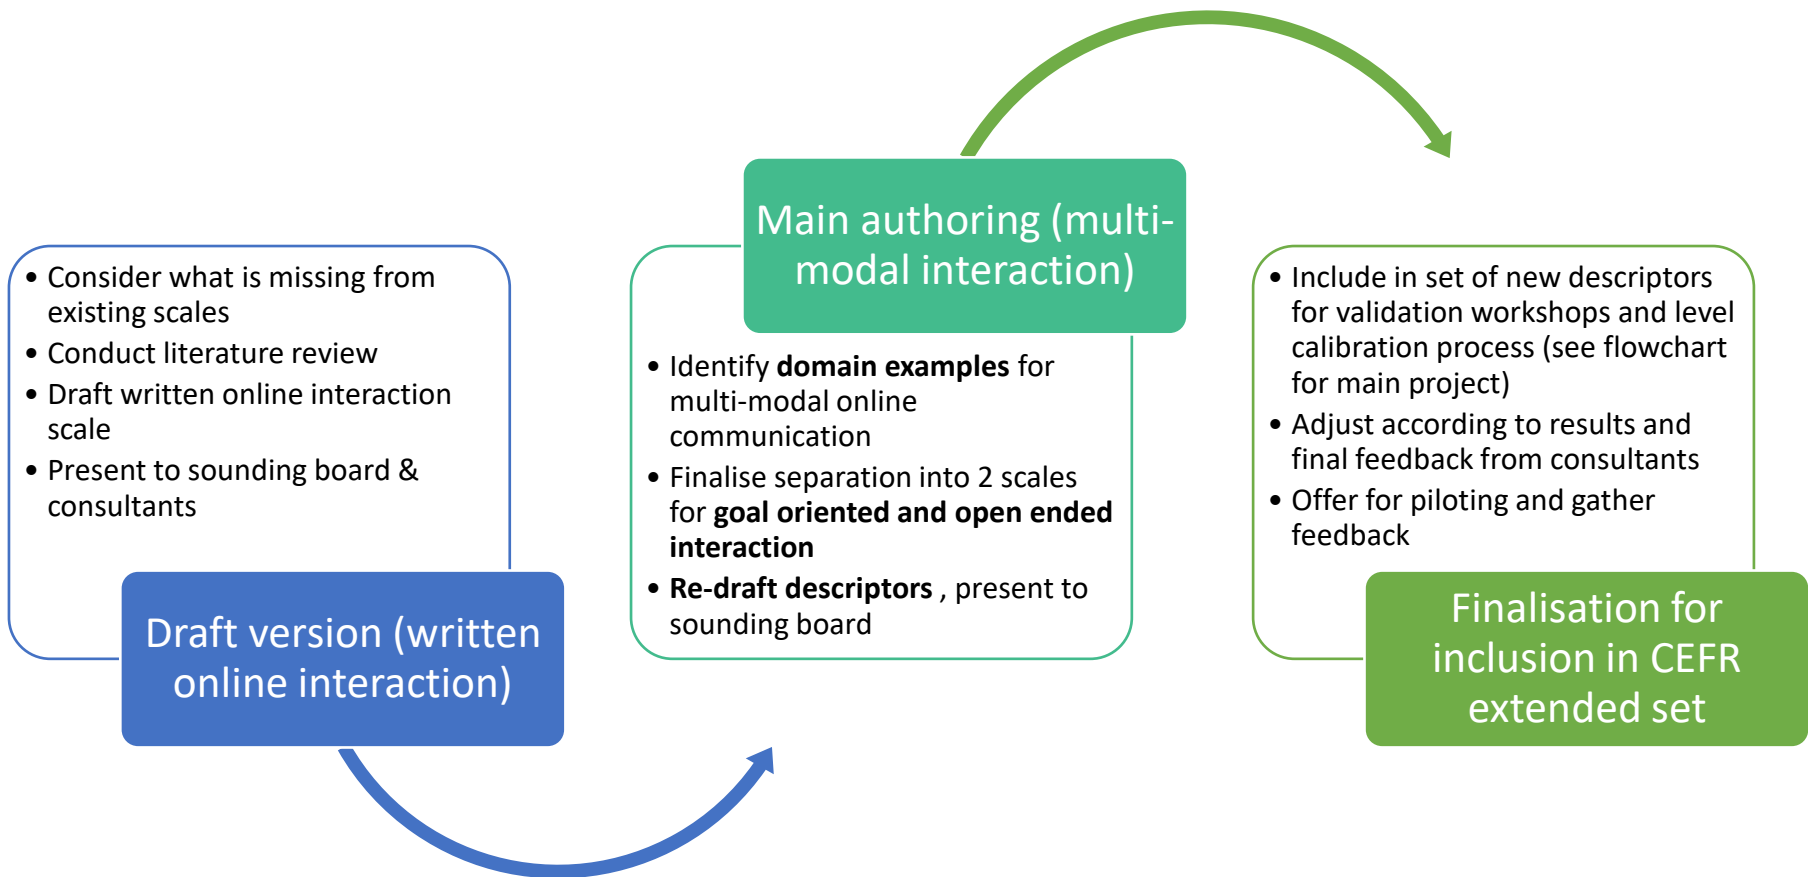

- Since 2001 the role of online modes of interaction has developed exponentially worldwide;
- The existing 2001 illustrative scales no longer adequately represent multi-modal online interaction and collaboration;
- The features and constraints of specific communication technologies and tools become irrelevant over time;
- Online interaction can, and does, involve multiple remote social actors who can flexibly remix media and texts to support their message;
- Online interaction can be synchronous, asynchronous, spoken and written, and is often a blend of these.

Needs that are pertinent to mixed synchronous / asynchronous remote online exchanges:

- (often) the need for more redundancy in messages;
- the need to check that the message has been correctly understood;
- ability to reformulate in order to help comprehension, deal with misunderstanding;
- ability to handle emotional reactions;
- inter-cultural sensitivity.

Online conversation and discussion focuses on conversation and discussion online as a multi-modal phenomenon

- instances of simultaneous (real time) and consecutive interaction, the latter giving time to prepare a draft and/or consult aids;
- participation in sustained interaction with one or more interlocutors;
- composing posts and contributions for others to respond to;
- comments (e.g. evaluative) on posts, comments and contributions of others;
- reactions to embedded media;
- the ability to include symbols, images, and other codes for making the message convey tone,
- stress and prosody, but also the affective/emotional side, irony etc.

Goal-oriented online transactions and collaboration: This scale focuses on the potentially collaborative nature of online interaction and transactions that have specific goals, as a regular feature of contemporary life.

- purchasing goods and services online;
- engaging in transactions requiring negotiation of conditions, in a service as well as client role;
- participation in collaborative project work;
- dealing with communication problems.
